How can you reach some of western Pennsylvania’s most affluent, well-educated, and culturally involved residents?
Advertise in CARNEGIE.

CARNEGIE delivers the depth, diversity, and excitement of the four Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh!

CARNEGIE magazine is published bi-monthly by Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh for its members and donors.

Six times a year, CARNEGIE magazine delivers the depth, diversity, and excitement of the four Carnegie Museums: Carnegie Museum of Art, Carnegie Museum of Natural History, Carnegie Science Center, and The Andy Warhol Museum. Each issue is packed with previews of the latest exhibitions, behind-the-scenes peeks at the dynamic offerings of the four museums, and a look at the work of the museums’ internationally renowned curators and scientists. CARNEGIE magazine also presents its culturally involved members with updates on the local arts scene and delves into groundbreaking research going on right here in western Pennsylvania.

“CARNEGIE magazine is something cultural coming into my home on a regular basis. It adds another dimension to our lives.”

About our READERS

One out of every 25 Pittsburghers is a Carnegie Museums of Pittsburgh member, and those members are among the most affluent, influential, literate, and culturally involved consumers in the greater Pittsburgh area.

Individuals and families join Carnegie Museums for the inspirational, educational, cultural, fun, and family-oriented experiences they find at the four museums. As members, they read and refer to CARNEGIE magazine to find out what’s happening at the museums they support and stay connected with Pittsburgh’s thriving cultural community.
How do readers use CARNEGIE Magazine?

In a 2002 readership survey:

- 75 percent of all respondents said they read the magazine’s cover story or feature stories, the calendar of events, and articles about the individual museums;
- 60 percent of all respondents stated they used the magazine to plan their personal and family activities; and
- 85 percent of all respondents indicated they believe CARNEGIE magazine is an informative, helpful, and useful resource.

Top five reasons to advertise in CARNEGIE:

- To reach a diverse, highly educated, and sophisticated audience.
- To reach an affluent and family-oriented audience with discretionary income.
- It’s an efficient media buy.
- Your ad will be seen easily with a guaranteed 40:60 ads:editorial ratio.
- With four museums represented in one magazine, it’s like placing an ad in four different publications at once.

- Payment in full is due 30 days from invoice date. A 15 percent commission is allowed to recognize advertising agencies on space, color, and position charges. However, no agency commission will be allowed if payment is not received within 60 days from invoice date. Production and mechanical charges, including insertion fees, are non-commissionable.

- The Publisher reserves the right to request a credit application from an Advertiser and to request pre-payment of advertising space reserved.

- The Publisher may refuse to publish future advertising if an Advertiser's account becomes delinquent.

- In the event of non-payment, Publisher reserves the right to hold an Advertiser and/or its advertising agency jointly and separately liable for such monies as are due and payable to CARNEGIE Institute.

Advertising Terms & Agreements

- CARNEGIE magazine reserves the right to review and possibly reject any advertising. Publisher also reserves the right to reduce or limit space requested by an Advertiser.

- A contract year is six (6) consecutive issues.

- Deadlines and cancellation dates are per the published Schedule of CARNEGIE magazine deadlines. Cancellations will not be accepted after the scheduled closing date for reservations, and the scheduled insertion will be billed regardless of whether the ad actually is printed in the issue.

- New materials are due at least 15 business days prior to the issue date or the publisher has permission to pick up the ad used in the previous issue.

- Requested positions are not guaranteed unless a special position premium has been paid or the position is agreed to in writing.

- CARNEGIE magazine shall be under no liability for failure, for any reason, to insert an ad. All Advertisers must adhere to the Mechanical Specification page contained in the CARNEGIE magazine Media Kit. Rates are based on camera-ready art or acceptable electronic materials. Any revision or special handling required for advertising materials will be billed to the Advertiser, and CARNEGIE magazine shall be under no liability for accuracy of changes requested.

- CARNEGIE magazine does not assume liability for the return of advertising material. Publisher is not responsible for errors in editorial or design that are found in artwork received from an Advertiser or its advertising agency or graphic designer. The Advertiser assumes liability for all content, including text and illustrations in advertising published and also assumes responsibility for any claims made against CARNEGIE magazine, including the cost of defending such a claim.

- Advertiser hereby authorizes CARNEGIE Institute to insert Advertiser's advertisement(s) in CARNEGIE magazine as indicated above. If the frequency of ads indicated above is not met, Advertiser will be short-rated.

Make checks payable to Carnegie Institute and send all contracts, checks, and artwork to:
